

PUPPETS IN THE BLOGOSPHERE

Following another successful visit to Sõrve, Sandra and Marlene from the Puppeteers felt inclined to share their amazing experience with the world via their Australian travel blog. It's clear that they were very impressed with how Sõrve seeks to foster an environment of friendliness and fun - while teaching and upholding our Estonian heritage. And of course, they loved the natural beauty of our surroundings here at Sõrve. Below is a snippet from their blog.

"...Reedel jõudsime tagasi Eestisse. Juba varakult pakkisime asjad, et võtta ette teekond Newcastle'isse, seal natukene rannas pikutada ning siis jõuda kohta nimega Sõrve (Point Wolstoncroft)..."

Keep up to date with their travels at www.ohhtuleht.ee/blogid/neiudaustraalias

Meie liiklusvahendid- buss, mis ei tahtnud kuidagi tervena püsida ja tsikkel

Kes bussiga, kes tsikliga

GABE RAID

It seems no one is safe when it comes to raiding as news surfaces that the GABE's (which stands for Girlfriends And Boyfriends of Estonians) were raided late yesterday afternoon.

The GABE's, who spend the week at a holiday house in Gwandalan, returned to the house just after lunch to find the living area toilet papered.

Authorities are advising all campers to stay alert as we get into the raiding end of the week.

THE WISE WORDS OF PETER MAASEPP

"... This creamed corn is an illegal substance banned in five countries..."

"... Back in 1969 I went for four days without blinking. My mate Kristjan dared me and if I won I got to keep his marbles... So I said yes, marbles were like gold back then you know ...So 96 hours of no sleep took a pretty big toll on me but it was worth it, I had them my whole life but ended up losing them a few years ago..."

"... Before I go to bed I put socks on. It only saves me about five seconds but you really do notice it..."

"... I never get into fights - it's against my nature... I did punch a horse once but he had it coming..."

"...I don't like it when people cry when they are happy... it gives me mixed messages..."

Kalli Camp!

Thankyou for all the fantastic memories we've had over our many years as elanikud! The friendships, good and bad skits, sleepless nights and constant sugar highs from the lollies we never had are unforgettable and we'll cherish them forever! Sõrve has been the most anticipated week of the year. We love you all!

Love Gemellily xoxo

#estoisbesto #Sõrve2013 #estobotsrollout

DISCLAIMER

This Sosin is sold by weight not volume; Contents may have settled during shipping. To keep milk from turning sour leave it in the cow. The views of our superiors do not conform to our views, or to any accepted standard of logic. We haven't lost our mind it's backed up on tape somewhere. 80% of all our statistics are wrong. We love you all thanks for reading (except mantas).

NATUKE:

What do you call a sheep with no legs? A cloud • What's an Estonians idea of a balanced diet? A beer in each hand!

The Sörve Sosin

The Least Trusted News Source on the Peninsular

Thursday January 10 2013

END OF CAMP BLUES - BLUE EDITION

Here at the Sosin HQ we're suffering from end of camp blues! And we know we are not alone as we head into the last night at Sörve 2013. This blue edition is dedicated to all those feeling blue! It's been a great year and we've had a ball putting the publication together; we hope you've enjoyed reading it! Once again, we urge you to like Sörve on Facebook (search for Sörve Summer Camp), where we'll be posting stories and photos of all the shenanigans from the past week, as well as updates throughout the year to keep the Sörve family connected. Wishing you all the best for 2013 and see you next year.

Big kisses from the Sosin team. Matt, Sven and Rusty

BERTYS BROTHER REVEALED

Following a week-long investigation the Sosin team can exclusively expose the truth behind Berty the Bunyip - and why he has been so elusive and hard to capture. It turns out that he has been receiving help from the inside by none other than his own brother... Peter Maasepp! Yes, it is un-imaginable that our ex-leader would be involved in such controversy but the Sosin team has evidence that Peter has been meeting Berty late at night and giving him milk, bananas and bread from the söögisaal. Our Webcam caught the transaction of two nights. This morning the Sosin team stormed Peter's hut demanding answers. While shocked by the revelation, Peter remained calm and explained that in order to keep the campers safe he had to feed his half- brother. He also revealed that Berty had headed back to his cave for another 51 weeks of hibernation until next Sörve in 2014... So the mystery is finally solved and I think we will all agree that the resemblance is uncanny! (See right)

SILENT BUT DEADLY CHEMICAL WARFARE

"What's that smell?" was the cry heard coming from the air vent checkpoint in last nights suur mang. Crawling in a line, nose to bum, had several participants wondering whether it was still worth finding the rocket. Sam Salisbury who was at the front of the line didn't understand what all the fuss was about? He had this to say, "I thought it was part of the checkpoint to hold my breath like everyone behind me so I just held it too." This has led to a review of baked bean portion sizes at breakfast.

