TEHTUD! That's a wrap!

As Sõrve 2023 draws to a close, we reflect on the week that was. The week was filled with activities, laughter, culture, food, reconnecting with friends and making new ones. We were treated with blue skies and nice weather to start the week, with a storm midweek ending in a washed out lipu langetamine and lõpulõke. Even the sky was shedding a tear at having to leave Sõrve for another year. The 2023 sosin team would like to give a huge thanks to Danae, Marissa, Rachel and all other contributors and editors of the Sosin.
See you next year! Nägemiseni!

4 generations of Sõrve Camp Leaders at the 60th together

LINNUKE OKSAL ÜTLES
Look out for the perfect Sõrve parting gift- a stomach bug!
Next Sõrve is tipped to be hot and sunny all week, like it used to be 25 years ago!
The kissing frenzy didn't end at lõpulõke...
Tuljak final hold position to be time capped in future years due to health and safety concerns.
Rachel employed 3 clones in order to cover all aspects of camp with her photography.

DID YOU KNOW?

Rahvariided, translated literally as “clothes of the people”, are folk costumes, and they are probably the most well-known fashion to emerge from Estonia.

A tradition centuries old, the folk costume is a hand stitched blend of linen and wool in assorted patterns and colours.

What makes these outfits special is the meaning behind each detail of their decorations. Every corner of Estonia has its own costume colour scheme and sequence of stripes used in the woven skirts.

Juhid 2023!

PARTING WORDS FROM OUR LAAGRI JUHT

It's with both sadness and joy that I wish to share with Sõrve that this has been my last and final year as Laagri Juht. It has been an absolute pleasure over the last 6 Sõrves to watch this community grow and share in the magic of Sõrve. The vision I had all those years ago with more culture, more rahvariided and bringing magic to Sõrve has come to life. I am so incredibly grateful this community has allowed me to hold this position over the years and supported my grandiose ideas, in bringing abundant smiles and pure joy to our wonderful community. In saying this I fully support Erik Tults to take over this big role and I hope the new committee will join me in this support. Aitäh
