TERE TULEMAST ELANIKUD!

Picture this: it's Saturday night, you're alone in your bed, your camp clothes are clean and packed and the false bottom you installed in your suitcase to conceal contraband lollies is pretty much undetectable. It's been 358 days since you last left Sõrve, but guess what, you're finally back! That's right, Sõrve is back and bigger than ever, with record breaking attendance numbers (the race for seconds has never been so contested). I am also back as your humble editor/reporter/lurker, so please feel free to approach me anytime if you have a story, a photo, a poem, a cool Estonian word or anything else you think is publishable (otherwise leave me alone I'm probably VERY busy).

I'm looking forward to catching up with old mates, meeting new people, and capturing and distributing their most embarrassing moments.

- Rootin' Tootin' Tomas

THE EST FILES

Bunyip sightings have been causing a stir in the Sörve community for decades, but how substantiate are these claims?

Word has spread that the SBI (Sörve Bureau of Investigations) has assembled a crack team to investigate the phenomenon.

The Truth is out there.
