BREAKING: Detective Dark charged with murder, Peacock lady cleared of all wrongdoing

Well...I jinxed it. It stormed. Despite the hard efforts of our valiant leaders, the weather said "no way" to the second half of the big game and instead treated us to a spectacular light show. Bolts of lightning streaked across the sky as the Assistant Detectives of the Sõrve Poleitsi were nearing the truth.

Monsieur Mustleib was murdered whilst attending an elegant dinner party with his wife Proua Paabulind hosted by eccentric billionaire Signeer Roheline. Officers arrived shortly at the scene to deputise the elanikud and tasked them with gathering evidence on the main suspect. After a full afternoon of gathering evidence on the estate of the esteemed Signeer Roheline, they came to the conclusion that the most likely culprit was Proua Paabulind. Just as they were getting close, the heavens opened and washed away any chance of continuing. Hot on her tail, they continued the search the next morning.

However, as the picture grew the assistant detectives realised there were more pieces to this game than first thought, and the search continued for the true perpetrators of the crime. The detectives were required to hack into the security system, analyse shoe prints and translate letters to gather enough evidence to put the real culprit behind bars.

As more evidence was found, it became apparent that the real culprit was Detective Black. Black, using his cunning and resources murdered Monsieur Mustleib, and with the help of Deputy Dark attempted to pin it on Proua Paabulind. Justice prevailed and with the excellent detective work by the assistant detectives, Judge Marika sentenced Black and Dark to be sent to prison!
