It's the final countdown

That's another week wrapped up in a neat little package, and what a week it was! I'm not going to say too much in this issue because I want to leave room for some photos (my brain is soup). I just want to say thank you to everyone for being so tolerant of me buzzing around getting in everyone's personal space taking photos, and to the Juhid, Rachel, Conrad and Aaron for taking pictures in places where I wasn't. It's not like I can teleport guys, come on. Anyway, I just want to say I had a blast again and I really hope you all enjoyed reading these as much as I enjoy writing them.

Another shout out goes to my cousin Veronica; sorry we didn't get to do that thing you wanted but there's always next year! Just don't bother me about it in the car back, okay?

- Your faithful editor, Tomas

P.S. I'm sorry to Tare Viis and Tare Kaheksa who were not interviewed for the Sosin, I really really wanted to but time keeps on slippin'. You'll be first next year I promise

I think this is the only picture of myself out of 2,000+ photos I took over the week lol

Lachlan was never seen of again

Kallid fellow amazing Sörve campers,

I've been asked to write an exit letter so here it is:
It feels like only yesterday I was spending my first days in a B Group hut, but now it's my last as an A Grouper! Even though I'll never be a "kid" again, I'm so grateful that I've been able to grow up in the Sörve family. I have soooooo many amazingly fascinating and unique memories from Sörve that could never really make sense away from camp. I also look forward to making many, many more Sörve memories in the future.

I really value the friendships that I've formed who keep the Sörve spark alive. Although everyone lives in different places, we continue our conversations each year from where they left off last year. Thank you for being so supportive and accepting, you always make me feel so happy!

So now, I thought I'd share some advice that I've learnt whilst being a camper to make the most of every day here!

- Plant mango and avocado seeds in your hut so that a tree grows and provides you with fresh fruit for breakfast.
- Always eat your exotic organic superfood vegan salad with dehydrated kale dust! This will ensure you have enough energy to be alive, awake and well enthusiastic every day.
- A crab dance a day will keep the doctor away.

The Sörve family has always had and will always have a special place in my heart!

Aitäh kõigile!

Sandra Buchert
